

Sm 8 de doctor who came Attean Lola, a tall young man, came one night with his feet frozen when grandmother had an evening company. She had to work on him and thaw his feet to the neglect of her guests and the risk of her clothes while grandfather conducted him to the Indian camp.

Once he ^{Attean} came very drunk, and being too drunk to stand went out of the yard a all times. He was inquiring for "Jonathan P." He was probably a son of old Mr. Lolar. "Know nothin' of doctorin' more'n lebbe did but white folks cheat Indians an' Indians cheat white folks".

Saukees, Maria, wife of Piel. Lemig says she belongs to the Pig gens. Clara tells the story of her mother being a dog. "Man had nigger, he dog, all dogs, some heads, some beet. He told dose hunters men, 'Let's up nibe, grab big one'". Another time she told me the same story of Maria Saukees origin. That is, Clara said Maria Saukees mother was a dog. "dog food".
