

in which the Sundays were represented by circles and the Catholic days by different symbols

} Now in Boyer Historical Society's collection & I have a photograph of it

He was a short, broad chested, bull headed man with an Indian face, weighing about 175, tough and hard built. His wife was a woman of great ability and of very commanding appearance.

Joe had medals given him at Augusta to take home to the tribe and he kept them until the time of his death. (There were also medals struck by Congress and given the father of Dr. John Francis of Pascama-quaddy which were stolen by Sappiel Selma) ^{+ the medals} ^{for old Gov. Deffen} ^{mentioned before}

The canoe in which Polio carried Thoman on his trip Joe kept for years, hoping to sell it as a curiosity because he had heard that it had been written about in books. It might be in existence today as it was well kept.

He collected and sold curiosities, made & sold buckets and kept a little shop which I well remember on the left hand of the main Indian street going up, a little before the rise by