

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Some years ago you found a lady was not up, and you went where you supposed she was and found her there, and she threw a wash bowl at you?

A. I don't remember it.

Q. I don't want to give any name, but I would like to have you try and recollect of such an instance as that?

A. No, I have no recollection.

Q. Did she throw a wash bowl? A. No, sir, I don't remember it.

Q. You found her in a closet and she threw some dish or other at you? A. I don't remember.

Q. She was a quiet patient and has since been discharged. Now then, after that, this same lady for this act of disobedience or insanity, whatever it was, was ordered to be put into the lodge naked?

A. No, sir, not that I know of.

Q. Can you recollect any such instance as that?

A. No sir. I never ordered a patient to be put into the ^{lodge} ~~the~~ _{room} naked.
