

2. Came down to June 2 and read from that. A. May 19th she is in the use of a tonic mixture. She remains very much disturbed in mind. June 2d about the same. June 9th she had a hysteric paroxysm yesterday. She would scream. Medicine the same. June 11 she is more quiet to-day but still appears much confused. She has fits of violence.
 June 22 she ~~has~~ quiet now. July 14 looks pale and is getting emaciated.
 July 25 she is having a severe attack of diarrhoea; profuse discharges. Have given some oil and tincture of rhubarb. July 26th she ~~had~~^{had} miscarriage this afternoon of a male child, probably 4 or 5 months old. She is doing quite well this evening considering the diarrhoea which is quite severe. ~~Have~~ given a stimulant. July 27, she has had but little flooring to-day. We are giving brandy. Removed to sick room. She is as comfortable and doing as well as can be expected. That covers July 28th also. July 30, she dies in bed quiet. Has had no hemorrhage
