There is no question of the firm belief of Clara Neptune in the ability of her ^{grand-}father - in - Law to do magic. She says he "could do most anything" & fully believes all Deland's statements. She says he got for the brickbats. Maria Sanchez says for the Chippewas. Clara says he travelled much, "been all around. got a child / ~~with~~ ^{very} piece"
"Lyns good p. with me, cant do it now.
Cause det Cat' life?"

There seems a probability that it was from Neptune who by adultery with Alton's wife broke up the tribe and started old & new factions. Milliman refers to the trouble. Charles W. Dillingham all but says it. It is some sort of Neptune's character & actions. This would account for his going away p. years to Montreal.
Lester - Milliman in Mass. Hist. Colls. says it plainly.
