

the uterus takes an expulsive action it may come on instantly, and then the thing becomes apparent.

Q. I don't refer to a matter of that kind, but Dr. Hurler goes in and has a casual observation, and sees nothing of the kind. He goes in again, and he says without examining the person of that woman it was apparent what the trouble was

A. That was by the pains I suppose.

Q. Birth had been produced A. Then of course it would be pretty apparent at that time

By Mr. Baker:

Q. Were you aware of the practice of the physicians there not to make examinations of the persons of the female patients A. I have been told by them that they do not.

Q. Does the board of trustees, so far as you know, approve of that resolution as a wise one A. Since I came on we have never thought best to change that rule.
