

expected, or whether it is 50 years behind.

Ans. I have been there some 20 times. I do not think I can pick out anyone particular visit and say that I found anything out of place; sometimes the patients would be more noisy, more demonstrative than others, but so far as the neatness of the hall is concerned, or the attention of the attendants is concerned, anything that is connected with the management of the hospital there is a great uniformity.

Ques. During the last year have you noticed any improvements. Ans. I think in one respect, and I do not know but Mrs. Whidden should have the credit of that. The evening I went over and went into the rooms where the ladies were, I found them at work, sewing, knitting and something of that kind. I thought from the appearance around that it was a very great improvement, those that were at work seemed quite happy.

By Mrs. Hall.

Ques. Are you familiar with hospitals abroad, German and English hospitals. Ans. I cannot say that I am.
